

Greetings from Gulu!

I have been back in Gulu almost one month now. I am thankful for all the opportunities I had to share about the ministry here while I was home on furlough in the US. Thank you to everyone who fed, provided housing and transportation to me. I visited with people who have been involved with ACTION Gulu for years and met others who were learning about us for the first time.

It was wonderful to meet people for the first time face to face who I had met through email. It was great to report back to you who have given to support the ministry here what your prayers and funds have accomplished. I shared in churches, Bible study groups, home fellowship groups, school classes and anywhere God would allow me. I am excited to be back and look forward to what God will do.

I ask for your continued prayers as we are still struggling financially. The school and orphanage are managing to run day to day. Our staff is working well together. The year has gotten off to a peaceful start.

Please see the attached Easter Greeting. My mom made scarves for all the children at Home of Love. They were thrilled to receive a gift from Grandmother Joanne. People here wear scarves to cover their heads to protect from the sun. So they all put on their scarves in their own unique ways and we took a picture. I am enjoying being back with the children. Praises for our risen Lord! He lives!

Angie

